Texans Vote Dry

Water Defeated

BY ELAINE PEEPLES

Randall County voters Tuesday voted yes on all but two of the constitutional amendments on the special election ballot with amendment 2 on the water plan receiving the largest favorable majority.

County Clerk Leroy Hutton said a little over 18 per cent of the county's registered voters cast ballots in the Tuesday election.

This compares to an eight per cent turnout in the constitutional amendment election in 1967. In this election, 3,516 of the county's 19,339 voters cast ballots.

Randall County voters polled 73.94 per cent in favor of Amendment 2 providing for a water plan for Texas.

The vote was 2,600 for to 834 against.

The water amendment was defeated statewide with the count at noon Wednesday showing it behind by 5,545 votes with less than 3,000 remaining to be counted.

The total vote was a little more than 600,000.

Amendment 3 providing for higher salaries for legislators and amendment 4 to exempt non-profit water corporations from taxation were the only two amendments to fail in Randall County.

On amendment 3, the county voted 1,525 for and 1,827 against or 43.7 per cent for and 51.96 per cent against.

In a close vote, amendment 4 was defeated by 21 votes. The vote was 1,652 or 46.98 per cent for to 1,673 or 47.58 against.

Both 3 and 4 failed statewide.

On amendment 1 to repeal the obsolete sections of the Constitution, Randall County voters polled 59.10 per cent in favor and 36.06 against.

On amendment 5 to raise the welfare ceiling, county voters followed the statewide trend of approving the amendment by a large majority.

The county vote on amendment was 58.98 per cent for and 38.33 per cent against.

Amendment 6 to remove the constitutional interest rate limitations for bonds passed in the county 48.00 per cent to 45.67 per cent. The amendment failed statewide.

The county vote on amendment 7 to provide benefits to families of governmental workers in hazardous jobs also followed the statewide trend and passed in Randall County 62.51 per cent to 33.64 per cent.

Amendment 8 to provide for additional loans for students passed 63.42 per cent to 32.19 per cent. This amendment received the second largest yes vote in the county.

The amendment also passed statewide.

Amendment 9 to provide for annual sessions passed in the county 50.85 per cent to 42.80 per cent. The amendment failed statewide.

The rural communities of Ralph Switch and Umbarger had the largest voter turnout in the county, as was expected.

Precinct 2, 3 and 4 voting at Ralph Switch had a 43.98 per cent of their registered voters to cast ballots.

Precincts 7, 8 and 18 at Umbarger had the largest voter turnout with 50.49 per cent. These two areas also had the largest turnout in the 1967 election with 27 per cent in Ralph Switch and 29 per cent at Umbarger.

Both precincts 12 and 14 voting at Coronado School and precincts 1, 13, 16, and 17 voting at Canyon had over 20 per cent of the registered voters to cast ballots.

Coronado polled 20.68 per cent and Canyon polled 23.04 per cent. This compares with

Hereford Breeders Tour Area

Panhandle Hereford Breeders Association will begin a two day tour of the Panhandle on Monday morning, August 11.

The tour will assemble at 8 o'clock at the West Texas State University Farm where the members will be served coffee and doughnuts by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce Rec Carpet Committee.

Following the coffee session, the group will visit Hereford ranches throughout the Panhandle area.

Grass Fires May Present Problems

Randall County has had more grass fires earlier in the season than ever before, according to Joe Rice of the Canyon Fire Department.

Rice said since July 1 when the fires started occurring, eight have been reported in the county and one in the city.

He said about 1,000 bales of hay were also destroyed in a fire in a hay stack in the county.

"I can't ever remember it being so hot and dry for such a long period of time this early," Rice said.

Most of the grass fires this summer, Rice said, have been small, from about four to ten acres.

Rice said usually the grass-fires didn't start until November.

"Right now the grass and weeds are burning that shouldn't burn before heavy frost," he said.

"We have had more and worse grass fires," Rice said, "but this is about the earliest."

He said the grass fires had been caused from lightning, electric fences, careless burning of trash and unknown causes which would include smoking.

The number of fires is much above this same time last year, for example, he said.

Rice said the fire department would like to urge people to be extremely careful "because it just takes one little spark" to start a grass fire now.

Rice said if the hot, dry weather continues the situation will be compounded.

Plan Apartments

100-Unit Building On Drawing Board

An apartment house expected to cost approximately $1,750,000 is on the drawing board for Canyon.

The 100-unit, multi-family apartment house is to be constructed at the western edge of Hunsley Hills just south of the Hunsley Hills Golf Course and adjacent to the Hunsley Hills school site which lies to the west.

It is to be constructed by the Canyon Creek Apartment Group, a joint development venture. Associated in the group are Arch Hunsley, Canyon developer; Frank Jones and John Notestine, Amarillo architect; Stanley K. Davis, Amarillo, Panhandle Engineering and General Contractors; and Ed Fancher, representing Ordway-Saunders of Amarillo.

Fancer said his firm hopes to complete construction by the time West Texas State University opens its fall semester in 1970.

"We are going to have quality apartments," the Amarillo insuranceman declared.

Monthly rental on the apartments when furnished will range from about $165 for one-bedroom units to $210 for two-bedroom units and up to $250 for three-bedroom units.

The apartment house will be situated on a 6.8-acre plot of ground and will have its own swimming pool and recreation area as well as an activity building.

Jones outlined plans for the apartment building Monday night before the Canyon Planning Commission. He said the building will contain 12 one-bedroom units, 64 two-bedroom units and 24 three-bedroom units.

He told the commission that arrangements to finance the construction has already been made through a grant program tied to Urban Renewal.

"We are ready to go on it," Jones declared.

Jones indicated that had Hunsley Hills remained outside the city it could not have been considered for such an undertaking.

"This project had to be incorporated inside a city limits," he declared.

Jones asked the commission to rezone the area from single family dwelling area to multi-family dwelling area.

The planning commission moved to ask for a public hearing on rezoning of the proposed apartment house site from single family to multi-family unit area.

A public hearing will be held before the Planning Commission at 7 o'clock the evening of Aug.18 in the City Hall Annex.

Then in a second motion the Planning Commission requested the city commission to authorize it to hold a public hearing on rezoning of areas east and west of the proposed site from single to multi-family dwelling area.

If the request is approved, that hearing also will be held the evening of Aug. 18.

In other action the Planning Commission granted special use permits for lots 3, 4, 5 and 6 of Block 3, College Park Addition, to allow Jack Hughes to maintain fixed dwelling single unit mobile homes on them.

Delay Action On Pipelines

Commissioners court Monday again heard a plea by pipeline company representatives that their firms be taxed on pipelines in the county on a basis of 25 percent of "lifetime" value.

The court last week voted to tax the pipelines on a basis of 17 percent of 100 percent valuation.

Robert Elliott, El Paso Natural Gas Co., argued for constant valuation in taxing pipelines.

He said pipelines are being taxed on 25 percent of lifetime value and shouldn't be raised.

He noted that most taxing entities accept a state schedule in assessing pipelines.

Virgil Brecheen of Pioneer Natural Gas Company said lifetime value is figured at about 50 percent of cost of installation with no depreciation allowed.

"We're still paying the same schedule on some 40-year-old line," he declared.

Elliott said his company considers the lifetime of a pipeline about 28 years. "When it's depreciated off we can't earn on it anymore," he said.

Pete Gillis of Phillips Petroleum Company pointed out that arriving at investment in a mile of pipeline is difficult.

"Laying a long pipeline is cheaper than laying a short one," he said.

He also said that timing can affect the cost of line. It may be cheaper to lay line at one time than another because of availability of work crews. Terrain is also a variable factor in determining per mile cost.

Gillis suggested that if commissioners court is not satisfied with the schedules produced by the companies that it call in a consulting firm, pipeline laying firm or a qualified engineer.

"We will pay a consultant of your choice," he declared. "I think that is a fair proposition."

"If we employ them, I think we ought to pay them," said County Judge Carroll Brown.

Gillis said it would be impossible to use fair market value in taxing pipelines because pipelines almost never sell.

"I think they ought to be on 17 percent and we have no choice under the law," said Commissioner Glenn Dowlen.

"School districts and counties all over the state are doing it," Gillis replied.

The court delayed further action until next Monday. Commissioner Clarence Beckman

Board Of Regents Approve Changes

A new code of Student Life, changes in degree programs and departments, a new department and the planned dormitory complex have been approved for West Texas State University.

The changes were approved Friday by the Board of Regents of State Senior Colleges of Texas at their meeting Friday in Alpine.

The major revision in the guidelines for student conduct was the inclusion of a section on "disruption and violence."

The appending of House Bill 141 pertaining to disruptive activities on all school campuses in Texas was also included in the guidelines.

The code declares: "Disruption and violence have no place on this campus. Members of the academic community whose consciences demand that they express dissent through law violation must be prepared to accept the due processes and penalties of the law and neither should they expect amnesty from academic discipline."

Enforcement of this section of the student life code will be governed by the new state law which provides a fine up to $200 and a jail sentence of not less than 10 days nor more than six months upon conviction.

The regents also approved changes in two degree programs and authorized a new Department of Computer Information Systems for the School of Business.

It also approved the reorganization of the existing single Department of Economics, Government and Sociology in the College of Arts and Sciences into three departments.

The proposed Department of Economics would become a part of the School of Business under Dean C. C. Callarman while the Department of Government and the Department of Sociology would remain under Dean Ray Malzahn's College of Arts and Sciences.

These changes must also be approved by the Coordinating Board of the Texas College and University System before they become effective.

The request to alter two degree programs in the school of business would change the name of "major in mathematics-business" to "major in management science" and the adding of a "major in operations research" in the existing master of business administration degree.

The proposed Department of Computer Information would be the fourth separate department

CHS Band Rehearsals Begin 18th

Full band rehearsals for the Canyon High School band will begin Monday, Aug. 18, according to Gary Zook, director.

Rehearsals will be held twice daily at 8:30 to 11 a.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday until school begins, Zook said.

No rehearsals will be held Wednesday night but all the rehearsals are for the full band, Zook said.

After school begins, rehearsals will be held on Tuesday and Thursday afternoon.

The band room will be open daily beginning Aug. 4 for those who would like to practice or visit, Zook said.

Librarians are asked to report as soon as possible, Zook said.

Mr. and Mrs. Zook and the Canyon Band Parents Club will host members of the band at a wiener roast and water skiing party at Buffalo Lake.

Band members are to meet at the high school at 4:30 p.m. Aug. 23. Last year's senior band members are also invited.

Zook said the band would start work on concert music immediately as well as marching for football season and marching contest.

The band will play a concert

The show will include original choreography in ballet and jazz, songs from popular Broadway musicals and from operas, and piano selections of Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue, as well as original piano compositions.

The show will also include an excerpt from a Shakespearean play and a display of art work.

The college scholarship is not limited to a WTSU student but will be available to any member of the "TEXAS" cast. The recipient will be named at the show.

A minimum donation of one dollar is requested.

9th Grade Auditions For Band

Ninth graders interested in auditioning for the Canyon High School Band should contact the band director, Gary Zook, before Aug. 15.

Interested students should go by the band hall at Canyon High School or call Zook at 655-3734 or 655-4695 for an appointment.

Students will be required to play the chromatic scale for two octaves and sight read a short selection. Zook said he would prefer students have a solo or some other selection prepared to play.

Zook said arrangements had been made for changes in schedules so that the students could attend rehearsals first period.

Water Use Up To 71 Million Gallons

The Canyon Water Department pumped 71 million gallons of water during the month of July this year which is 21 million gallons more than last July.

William Wieser of the water department said the department pumped 50 million in July of last year.

In June of this year, the department pumped 46 million gallons, he said.

From the months of April through July of this year, 127 million gallons of water were pumped as compared to 127 in 1968.

Last summer, Wieser said, the department had several 3 million gallons a day consump-

Baptist Meet Ends Friday

The High Plains Baptist Assembly revival featuring Angel Martinez of Fort Smith, Ark., closes Friday night.

Services will be held at 8 p.m. at the assembly grounds northwest of Canyon tonight and Friday night.

Choir rehearsals and a Bible Study Hour will be held at 7:15 p.m. both nights. Steve Taylor is in charge of choir rehearsals and Dr. Kyle Yates will direct the Bible Study.

The nurseries at both the Calvary Baptist Church and the First Baptist Church in Canyon will be open.

The revival opened Monday night with a free barbecue, sky diving, a horsemanship exhibition and the main service.

About 2,500 people attended the opening night service.

Members of 51 area churches camped out at the grounds for the five-day service.

Cornette To Honor Hill

President and Mrs. James P. Cornette of West Texas State University are having a special reception honoring Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill in the Student Union formal lounge from 7-8 p.m., Aug. 19, preceeding their reception for the WTSU summer graduates.

Dr. and Mrs. Hill will remain as honored guests for the summer reception.

All of Dr. and Mrs. Hill's friends in the Panhandle region are invited to come by and visit with them at the reception, Dr. Cornette said.

The Hills are moving to a retirement home at Georgetown, near Austin. They have two sons connected with the Austin school system and are making the move in order to be near them.

Dr. Hill succeeded Dr. R. B. Cousins as president of the university in 1918 and held that post until his retirement in 1948. Prior to serving as president, he was a member of the college faculty for eight years.

Smoking A Hazard More Ways Than One

There are more hazards to cigarette smoking than heart disease and lung cancer.

Forrest Lacey, 30, Tulia, found out the hard way early Monday morning when he dropped a cigarette in his lap.

Lacey was driving south on Interstate 27 adjacent Dreamland Cemetery at about 12:35 o'clock.

The cigarette burned through his trousers. His car hurtled to the right across the cemetery access road, plowed up 60 feet of cemetery fence and knocked down two head stones.

Lacey's car was demolished and he suffered a collar bone fracture.

Investigating officers said there were no skid marks leading to the point of impact with the fence.

Heavy damage was done to this car, Dreamland Cemetery fence and two headstones in an accident early Monday morning. Forrest Ray Lacey drove his car into the cemetery fence after dropping a lighted cigarette into his lap, according to investigating officers.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

"You can't stop a malicious gossiper," a lawyer friend of mine told me recently.

"A gossip is like a snake. You cut his head off and you think you have him but he will come wiggling back up again somewhere else.

"You can sue a spreader of villification and take him clear to the Supreme Court and even have the Chief Justice lecture him for his mischief spreading talk and he'll go right on doing it."

* * *

I look for some tremendous developments in treating the sick in the next few years.

The whole country has gone to centralization. Look at small newspapers. Printing equipment became so expensive and technology so important that they had to go to central plants.

Two newspaper plants now do most of the small newspapers in the Panhandle bringing out a better product cheaper than if each newspaper had its own plant.

Hospitals are going that way too but the trend will increase.

I can foresee the time when towns the size of Canyon will have receiving stations where minor ailments are treated.

More serious cases will be transported by heliocopter within minutes to a central hospital.

Patients north of Plainview will go to Amarillo, those south of Plainview to Lubbock.

* * *

A doctor the other day explained to me why physicians are reluctant to make house calls.

He pointed out that 30 years ago a doctor carried most of his equipment in a little black bag and kept it with him all the time.

Now most of the equipment a doctor must work with is located at a hospital or clinic and he feels he cannot do his best work away from his equipment.

* * *

The country must have more doctors. Our medical schools must become more accessible.

I have also thought of the possibility that we require too much training for doctors who plan only to become general practitioners.

Health attention is one of society's most pressing problems and it is one of the most difficult questions for lay people to comment on.

Most of us feel that we simply are not competent to comment on this field which so vitally affects us.

* * *

The water amendment was defeated.

I feared it would be. Its proponents in most areas of the state promoted it only half heartedly.

Maybe this will teach us a lesson. If we are fortunate enough to get it on the ballot again next year maybe we'll work a little harder.

Walker Resigns As Secretary

Jim Walker, Canyon city secretary, has accepted a position as city manager of Sunray effective Aug. 18.

Walker announced his resignation as city secretary last week effective Aug. 14.

Walker has been city secretary since September of 1968.

The trip, by chartered bus, included Colorado points, Yellowstone National Park, points in Montana, a drive through the ice fields and glaciers in Canada, a stop at Vancouver Island, and home through Olympia, Washington; Salem, Oregon; the redwood forests; San Francisco; Lake Tahoe and Salt Lake City, Utah.

The trip was the first sponsored by Tri-State Tours and others are being planned for the fall and spring, according to Mrs. Blackwell. The upcoming trip tours will include the New England states and Nova Scotia this fall and a trip through the southern states and Florida for the spring.

About 40 attended the picnic which included outdoor games of jarts and football.

Mrs. Wanda Sue Lesly of Hereford, who was hit by a car Friday on the campus of West Texas State University, was released from Neblett Hospital Saturday.

The 17th annual Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading conference concludes today on the campus of West Texas State University.

About 500 Panhandle area teachers and administrators attended the conference which began Tuesday.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

America has many pressures. Surely a people ingenious enough to send men to the moon, and bring them safely back again could devise ways to alleviate a few of our most destructive pressures.

War is not currently popular in America, nor should it be. But more Americans have been crushed to death by automobiles (1,721,754) since 1900 than have been slain in battle (1,161,007) since the birth of our nation.

Obviously, we have no intention of going back to the horse-and-buggy days, so what can we do to eliminate our domestic slaughter? According to our Highway Patrol, more than half of all fatal accidents involve drinking drivers.

Beverage alcohol is almost prohibitively expensive; it has a vile taste; and it produces temporary insanity, yet only 1 out of 4 Americans chooses not to drink it.

In addition to producing a bloody chaos on the nation's highways, alcohol breaks up more homes, orphans more children, and destroys more lives than any other destructive element in America. Surely, if 3 out of 4 Americans demand such a ruinous factor in their lives, it must serve some essential function.

Men are gregarious creatures; probably the most necessary element in everyone's life is a sense of belonging. The average man will labor night and day if necessary to provide a home: the one place uniquely his own, where he is sure he belongs. (The wife who does not make her husband feel that his home is his castle has failed in her basic duty as a wife.)

Social drinking produces instant belongingness. The oneness, or group feeling that is produced by drinking probably accounts for the fact that drinking alone is considered a symptom of sickness--if not actual sin--by social drinkers.

Drinking gives an occasion for temporary joy and release--both essential to human welfare.

Drinking creates an atmosphere for sharing one's troubles without condemnation. Bartenders are noted for being sort of sidewalk psychologists. The barflies usually find bartenders patient listeners after everyone else has rejected their drunken babbling.

Drinking people can scarcely condemn each other. But the abstainer is a silent condemnation; hence the insistence on the part of drinking people that he partake.

No host would insist his guests drink coffee, tea, or milk if they declined them. But the average host who serves liquor will insist his guests partake, and will consider his hospitality has been insulted if they refuse.

All primitive tribes have some sort of ritual that a boy must go through as a gateway to manhood. Our culture lacks such a ritual; so liquor serves that purpose for our drinking people.

Recently a father who had promised his son a drink on his 21st birthday, flew to Vietnam to keep his promise to the boy on the battlefield.

And then there is the young pastor (single) who takes the girls from his congregation bar hopping to celebrate their 21st birthdays.

So, what drinking people need is a functional substitute for liquor, and the Apostle Paul gave a recipe for it some 2000 years ago; it is found in Ephesians 5:19.

Only in a good home is there a greater sense of belonging than is found in a Spirit-filled church. And probably few experiences bring greater joy and release than a sincere worship experience, whether it is found in the Christian fellowship, the offering, Bible study, song service, or the sermon.

Members of the early churches were admonished to confess their faults to one another, and to pray one for another. Modern church members are better at confessing the other fellow's faults; too many gossips around to confess our own.

How sad that psychiatrists and psychologists have had to come into perform the function God gave to the early churches: The professionals will listen in confidence, and without condemnation.

Our Puritan English forbears did not need liquor. It was the Europeans who brought this problem to our shores. And as frequently happens, even the ingenious Americans have overlooked the obvious: who ever saw a dedicated Christian, busy ministering to the needs of suffering humanity, who needed liquor?

Nun To Receive Degree Aug. 18

One of the few, if not the first Cathlic nun to graduate from West Texas State University, plans to take a master of education degree at the Aug. 21 summer convocation of the university.

Although records do not show clearly, she may be the first nun to graduate from WTSU. She is the first student from the university to have the title "Sister" placed on her diploma, said Dr. Walter H. Juniper, WTSU academic vice president.

Sister M. Emma Oswald of St. Francis Convent in Amarillo is in the order of Franciscan Sisters of Mary Immaculate. She has spent four summers at the university working toward her degree.

Originally from Switzerland, she came to the United States in 1932. She came to Texas in 1959 from the Canal Zone where she served at Balboa for three years. Prior to her work in the Canal Zone, she served for eight years in California as principal of schools in Long Beach and Los Angeles.

Taking her bachelor of arts degree from Immaculate Heart College in Los Angeles, Calif., she attended colleges in Texas, New Mexico, Missouri and California.

She will wear the traditional graduation cap and gown over her habit. "The gown will cover the shorter habits we have now. Of course I will wear the veil," she said.

She presently teaches fifth grade at St. Lawrence Parochial School in Amarillo. She has also taught at Plainview and Odessa.

"Trumpet" Coordinator In Canyon

Bedford Thurman of Kent State University who will be the production coordinator for the new Paul Green show was in Canyon Tuesday to see "TEXAS."

"Trumpet in the Land," Green's sixth playing outdoor drama, is scheduled to open July 3, 1970, at New Philadelphia, Ohio.

Thurman said he came to Canyon to talk to Mrs. Ples Harper and Raymond Raillard of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation about the production of "TEXAS."

Thurman said after he leaves Canyon he will go to Oklahoma, Kentucky, North Carolina and Virginia to see the outdoor dramas in production there.

"Trumpet in the Land" has been in the organizational stages since 1965, Thurman said.

The Ohio Outdoor Drama Association, a non-profit organization, was organized to sponsor the drama.

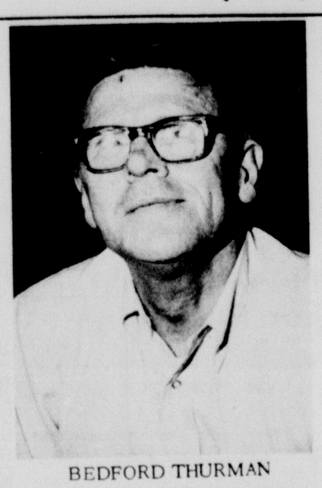
The state of Ohio under the sponsorship of Gov. Rhodes is contributing $400,000 to the drama and the association plans to raise $350,000 to complete the funds needed, Thurman siad.

The new amphitheatre should be finished in January and Green should be finished with the script in December.

Thurman said the play would be cast next spring and rehearsals would start June 1. Actors for the play will come from Kent State, Ohio University, Ohio State University, the University of Cincinatti, Bowling Green State University and other colleges in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

New Philadelphia is about 30 miles south of Canton or 70 miles south of Cleveland.

Thurman said he worked in "The Lost Colony" for the first five years of its production and in "Wilderness Road" in Berea, Ky., for four years.



BEDFORD THURMAN

Directors Of Indian Drama See "TEXAS"

The director and general manager of the outdoor drama, "Under These Hills" produced in Cherokee, N. C., were in the audience at "TEXAS" Monday night.

Carol White, manager, and William Hardy, director, were on their way to Tahlequah in Oklahoma where a new outdoor theatre opened this summer.

"The men were most enthusiastic about 'TEXAS'," according to Mrs. Ples Harper of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation.

Mrs. Harper said that Hardy spoke of the precision of the show and the repore of the cast with the audience.

Both plays at Cherokee and Tahlequah were written by Kermit Hunter, a member of the faculty at Southern Methodist University.

Hunter wrote "Under These Hills" as his masters thesis while he was studying under Paul Green, the author of "TEXAS."

The theatre at Cherokee seats 29,000 and the show has been seen by 2,600,000 people since it opened 20 years ago.

"Under These Hills" is the story of the indians who refused to go to Oklahoma when they were ordered to and stayed behind to face the army under great hardship, Mrs. Harper said.

The Tahlequah story is a sequel to the Cherokee story and is about the indians who did move to Oklahoma.

In connection with the show at Cherokee which is on the Cherokee Indian Reservation is the Museum of the Cherokee and the Oconaluftee Indian Village.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Moore, directors of "TEXAS" visited "Under These Hills" and met White in 1961.

'TEXAS' Show Among Events For HD Agents Convention

"TEXAS", the outdoor drama in Palo Duro Canyon, will have about 110 representatives from the state county home demonstration agent's convention at tending a performance tonight, Thursday.

Preceding the performance, the group will have a tour of Palo Duro Canyon and a barbecue supper.

Convention events for the state county home demonstration agent's sessions will be headquartered at the Herring Hotel in Amarillo.

During the day Thursday the agents will take a tour through Randall County, Hereford and Friona visiting various points of interest. Slated for the tour in Randall County are the Randall County Feedlot operations. About 50 agents are expected on the tour.

Friday, while agents are in business session, guests of the convention will make a second tour to Boys Ranch, the Helium Plant and other points of interest in that area.

Mrs. Becky Hall, Randall County home demonstration agent, will be among those home demonstration agents from District I serving as hostesses for the state meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Miller and children, Debbie and Kevin, have returned from a week's holiday in Arkansas where they visited with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. David B. Pond. Travelling with the Millers was a grandson, Kerry Rogers of Amarillo.

Attending Institute

Mrs. Willie McCall, assistant professor of business at West Texas State University, is a participant in the two-week Leadership Institute for Office Education which ends Friday at Michigan State University.

Representatives from 15 states, Canada, and the Overseas Dependent Schools operated by the Defense Department are evaluating materials developed over a three-year period through the research and development program of Michigan State University under a basic grant from the U. S. Office of Education.

Emphasis is being given to changing student needs brought about by technological expansion and to ways in which these curricula, course guides, unit outlines and instructional materials may be adapted for use by office administration departments in universities, two-year colleges and high schools to meet the changing needs of their students.

LaGrone Funeral Chapel

Dear friends,

When is a funeral well conducted? We would say that when those in attendance are not conscious that it is being conducted at all. When the details of direction are unnoticed, when the program moves quietly and smoothly.

We try always to make our own presence as inconspicuous as possible.

Respectfully,

Jerry N LaGrone

Rain Hinders Canyon Team

A heavy rain helped Stinnett with their fourth win over the Canyon Girl's Softball team Saturday night in Stinnett.

The final score of the game was 10-9, according to Canyon Coach John Braboy.

Braboy said the Canyon girls had the Stinnett team 8-0 in the seventh inning until the rain made the playing field slippery.

Canyon lost to Stinnett Friday night 6-5 in Canyon.

Braboy said he was attempting to arrange a game between the Canyon Girls and Dumas.

Wilkerson-Via Vows In Pampa

Miss Jo Clair Wilkerson and Gary D. Via exchanged double ring marriage vows at the First United Methodist Church in Pampa July 19 with Rev. Dewitt Seago officiating at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Wilkerson of Pampa. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Via of Happy.

The wedding was solemnized in a setting of seven branch candelabra and urns of white gladioli and green Killion daisies. The family pews were marked with white bows and daisies.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white silk organza over bridal satin designed with an empire bodice which was of imported French lace. The dress was Bobbin lace and the chapel train was reembroidered with seed parls and edged with Bobbin lace. Her veil of illusion was shoulderlength and was held to a satin bow trimmed with daisies. Her bouquet was white daisies.

Miss Karen Smithson of Dalhart was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Martha Paris of Miami and Miss Becky Via, sister of the bridegroom, from Happy. Jana Hogan of Pampa was flowergirl.

The bridal attendants were dressed in identical apple green Moire taffeta dresses in sleeveless design with accenting bow in the back. They wore matching horsehair picture hats and carried nosegays of tropicanna gladioli.

Ronnie Via of Tulia was best man for his brother. Joe Bob Via of Happy, brother of the bridegroom, and Hobart McManigal, Jr., also of Happy, were groomsmen. Guy Walt Via of Happy, brother of the bridegroom, was candlelighter.

Ushers were Richard Drew Wilkerson, Jr., brother of the bride, David Hally and Larry Tipping of Amarillo and James Oringderff of Canyon.

A reception in the church parlor followed the ceremony. The table was covered with a white Madura linen cloth and the three tiered white wedding cake was trimmed with white satin bells. Serving were Mrs. Ronnie Via and Miss Karen Crow. At the guest book was Mrs. Debbie Robertson.

The bride is a graduate of Pampa High School and will be a senior student at North Texas State University in Denton.

FIGHT BACK

Fight the price/cost squeeze on your wheat with NITROMITE, Shamrock's fine brand of anhydrous ammonia. A preplant application of NITROMITE speeds early growth, producing lush, high-quality forage (and plenty of it!)—an important factor if you plan to graze cattle this winter.
And the cash crop? NITROMITE delivers the most usable nitrogen per dollar to help increase yields without increasing cost appreciably. So come harvest, even if prices are low, you make out. If they're good, you'll be the big winner.
Put down NITROMITE now. It'll give you a fighting chance in the marketplace.
